

U.S. Voices Regret Over Rus Charge

WASHINGTON — Dec. 26. — The state department today voiced regret that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's repeated warning to the United States against threatening East German leader Konrad Adenauer when there was some change of easing world tensions.

Khrushchev alluded in a letter to Adenauer yesterday that the West German leader failed to start a war over the Cuban missile crisis and that he had every U.S.-Russian effort to reach cold war settlements.

State department spokesman George H. Weller said the leader's words did not appear to have any particular significance other than as a propaganda message designed to serve the Kremlin's purposes.

While adding it is, of course, a matter of regret that Khrushchev has chosen such a position, he noted that there appears to be possibilities of an easing of tensions in the world, to revive these well-worn and distorted themes in the Berlin situation.

White noted that Khrushchev's letter to Adenauer was a response to a letter from the German leader sent last August complaining about Soviet and East German actions along the Berlin wall.

Railroad Work Decision Delayed

WENDELL, Dec. 28 (UPI). — Justice Douglas of the supreme court today granted a stay of a lower court decision that would have changed railroad work rules.

The U.S. circuit court of appeals in Denver on Nov. 29 decided that the railroad workers had the right to reorganize employee practices in an effort to eliminate unnecessary work.

After the stay was granted, railroad unions asked a stay. The circuit court had directed its decision should go into effect Jan. 2.

Douglas said the stay would extend to Jan. 6, giving time to file a formal appeal.

The appeal will ask the full supreme court to review the case and overturn the circuit court decision.

Candlelight Rite Held at Gooding

The truck, driven by Tom Jenkins, Salt Lake City, was able to proceed on its way to Idaho Falls where it was repaired by a tire and unoaded Christmas toys. After the trailer was unloaded and righted by the plant foreman, it was carried from Jenkins' wrecking service.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

The low pressure system that was over Alberta yesterday, shifted eastward across the Great Plains and is now centered over the central Great Plains, extending eastward through Montana and along the Washington-Canadian border. Rain is occurring along the Washington coast and changes to an extreme northern Washington with this system apparently moving into the northern plains. As this front drives eastward, the rain front in Montana. As this front drives southward temperatures will continue falling in Montana and the snow will spread into Wyoming. The valleys of southern Idaho will escape any measurable precipitation from this storm in the north. The eastern Pacific is still a distance behind the cold air and the next disturbance located in the eastern Pacific appears to be more likely producer of some snow or rain the latter part of this weekend. The Pacific-born storm systems will move inland a little farther southward with the next five days with the storm moving eastward and northward into Idaho.

Temperatures will continue to moderate Saturday with minimums ranging from the lower temperatures the upper 40's to the upper 30's. Highs will be around 50° with occasionally windy weather will make up the remainder of weather during the next two days.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

The weather pattern is changing and will produce predominantly westerly winds from the Pacific across western states during the next five days. Precipitation will be more than normal over the Pacific Northwest and northern Idaho.

Temperatures will range from 16 to 35 of an inch over Magic Valley through next Wednesday. Snow in the mountains and rain or snow mixed in the valleys are forecast to occur Sunday or Monday and again about Wednesday.

Normal temperatures for the next five days at Gooding are 34 and 18, with temperatures dropping to 25 and 18 Saturday.

Humidity will be about 35 per cent of possible with daytime cloudiness averaging 7 to 8 coverage. Winds will be stronger than they have been the past several days.

NEW POWERFUL hydraulic loaders featuring double action lift have been announced by John Deere. Both loaders can lift on the ground or the rear end in a matter of seconds. Lever control lifting action allows bucket to glide over rough surfaces.

John Deere Offering New Hydraulic Lift Loaders

MOLINE, Ill., Dec. 28—Two pounds of breakaway power and new powerful loaders featuring double action lift have been announced by John Deere.

The 36 loader is designed for 100, 120 and 140-horsepower tractors and John Deere tractors. It has 2,500 pounds of breakaway power and lifts 2,100 pounds up to nine feet, seven inches.

The 46 loader is designed for John Deere "2010" and "4010."

Modification On Farm Loan Plan Listed

HAILEY, Dec. 28 (AP)—Audrey Chapman of the Idaho county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee announces modification of the farm facility loan program.

He explained that the maximum amount to be loaned on new facilities has been changed to 85 per cent of the out-of-pocket cost of a facility, but not more than 80 per cent of storage capacity.

The previous maximum loan on facilities costing 40 cents or less per bushel was up to 85 per cent of the cost, but not more than 80 per cent of maximum value per cent of 40 cents per bushel times the capacity, or 80 per cent of the cost, whichever was greater.

Chapman pointed out a new provision of the program, which makes it necessary that the farm be eligible for price support for the current year on all price-supported commodities produced on his farm, to be eligible for a facility loan.

All loans under the program will be made by the commodity credit corporation through the ABCG county office.

"Storage is very important in providing storage for farm commodities particularly at harvest time when distribution channels and commercial storage are like to be at a premium," he said.

With the tremendous increase in both commercial-warehouse and farm storage capacity in recent years he said, "the need for continued heavy expansion" he stated.

In determining the need for farm storage, the amount to be loaned will be based on the capacity to store two years' production, had on annual yields on allotted land, plus acreage for commodities under acreage production limitations, and on the capacity to store one year's production for other price-supported commodities. This need was determined on the basis of one year's production plus one year carryover.

Loans will be available on new movable or immovable commercial farm-type facilities such as bins, cribs, or buildings or similar facilities.

As formerly, the loans run for not more than five years and may be repaid in no more than four years. Interest rates are 4 per cent.

Interest rates since 1949, when the farm facility loan program started, almost 165,000 loans have been made on more than 700 million bushels of farm storage capacity, mostly by contractors, re-crop, utility and standard models. It has 8,000

Idaho Growers May Produce New Variety of Gem Potato

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Dec. 28—A new variety of Idaho russet is showing up better and earlier than all tests and is being considered for early market, growers, the Idaho potato selection committee announced after a meeting in the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Idaho.

The potato is still without a name.

Several growers and processors say they would plant it at 45,000 to 50,000 bushels per acre. The new selected seed will be available in early spring.

George Woodbury, chairman, selection committee and head of the university's department of horticulture, said research reports indicate the new potato has excellent possibilities. It has good yield, desirable russeting, fair resistance to scab and blight, and is well adapted to early maturing and "dormant" to early storage.

good yield, desirable russeting, fair resistance to scab and blight, and is well adapted to early maturing and "dormant" to early storage.

Some scientists said the variety seems best adapted to areas of cool weather as it has a tendency to growth cracks. In warmer weather, it may be a valuable addition to Idaho's potato market because of its performance in field trials and its resistance to the early dying disease that reduces yield and quality of other varieties.

WHEAT FUTURES TRADING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (UPI)—Preliminary data from the commodity exchange authority show that wheat and corn futures led the commodity trading in the "Gone-to-the-trading-in" market.

Wheat futures trading of $2 billion bushels increased 68 percent over 1961, and corn futures increased 100 percent, up to 1962.

The wheat volume was larger on each of the three leading markets—the Chicago board of trade, the Kansas City and the Minneapolis grain exchanges.

CRA administrator Alvin Caldwell said the grain trade made great strides in 1962, and wheat and corn futures during the year for hedging price risks on purchases and inventories of these grains.

Futures trading in oats and rye both increased about 22 percent in 1962. Oats registered a volume of 1.4 billion bushels, up 25 percent. Activity in soybeans, which was by far the most heavily traded futures commodity in 1961, declined 60 percent in 1962, to 4.8 billion bushels.

Some scientists said the variety seems best adapted to areas of cool weather as it has a tendency to growth cracks. In warmer weather, it may be a valuable addition to Idaho's potato market because of its performance in field trials and its resistance to the early dying disease that reduces yield and quality of other varieties.

without lifting the front wheels off the ground. Another feature of the new loaders is the ease in which the operator can mount or dismount from the tractor. Finger tip controls aid the operator.

Ability to Sweat Helps Cows Adapt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (UPI)—Cattle, especially heavily in hot weather, adapt more readily to constant high temperatures at least according to agricultural researchers.

Quik-Couplers simplify the hydraulic hoses.

The operator lowers the boom faster or puts down pressure on the loader bucket for digging.

Lever control digging and lifting controls allow the operator to regular surfaces without lifting tractor front wheels off the ground.

The "step-on" design of these loaders makes getting on and off a tractor as easy as without a loader. The operator is seated.

There is a wide variety of buckets and other attachments available for these loaders. There are 12 different materials.

There are single-wide, single-masture buckets, a 34-inch-wide six-time manure bucket (36 board feet only), and 80-inch-wide utility buckets.

There is also a single-masture bucket attachment, a bulldozer and crane attachment.

Forecast for Farms Shows Good Outlook

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (UPI)—The economic research service forecast for agriculture through 1967. More increases in farm output are expected, but prices of excess stocks, more stable prices.

ERS made these predictions assuming no major change on the international scene, a continuation of favorable weather, good grain and a healthy domestic and world economy for the next five years.

Even with continued restriction of world grain production, which now is in effect, agricultural output should increase another six or seven per cent in the next five years, ERS said. This could average about 1.3 per cent annually, slightly less than the projected annual growth in population of 1.6 per cent. Consequently, the availability of the use of farm commodities would be more nearly in balance by the end of 1967, ERS said.

The number of farms and farm operators is expected to decline, grain and a healthy domestic and world economy for the next five years.

As formerly, the loans run for not more than five years and may be repaid in no more than four years. Interest rates are 4 per cent.

Agricultural Products Playing Big Roll in St. Lawrence Seaway Success

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (UPI) — The St. Lawrence seaway, now at the end of its fourth year of navigation, has firmly established itself as an important gateway for U.S. domestic and foreign commerce. Agriculture plays an important role in this development.

The seaway, opened in April 1959, was built to call directly at U.S. lake ports deep in the heartland of the nation. There the vessels deliver supplies from overseas and pick up the abundant commodities produced in America's breadbasket for transport to the export market.

Before the opening of the seaway, most traffic through the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the St. Lawrence river moved in shallow-draft lake vessels of the grain and lumber industries. Great lakes commerce was limited primarily to bulk commodities such as coal, iron ore, petroleum products and grade-carrying heavy minerals. Midwestern manufacturers and merchandisers depended upon overseas points for supplies or markets were limited to the Great Lakes or Canada.

In the system that transports the old St. Lawrence canals are now used by the agriculture department. Around two million tons were U.S. export traffic. Less than 15 per cent of the U.S. exports moved directly overseas. Of the 6.1 million tons imported, overseas ports originated 3.5 million tons.

Agricultural products exported, 83 per cent — mostly grain — went to Canadian destinations.

About 21 million tons of U.S. grain came through the canals. All but 11 per cent originated in Canada. Only 10 per cent of these imports were agricultural commodities.

This pattern changed considerably during the first navigation season — 1960 — on the new seaway. Traffic got larger during the 1960 season and, by the end of the 1961 season, the volume was impressive.

During the 1961 navigation season, the United States received or shipped 63 per cent of the total volume of 234 million carloads of grain shipped on the waterway.

The seaway afforded a cheaper route to overseas markets, not only because of the cheaper all-water rates but through elimination of railroads and port metering costs at Buffalo and North Atlantic ports.

The department estimates that seaway data for 1962 traffic will be compiled will show the total volume of U.S. grain moving through the waterway in water tables and resultant salinity are agents that inflict heavy damage in many agricultural areas. Aerial photogrammetry is an excellent tool for detecting the severity and extent of salinization in affected areas, either before or after significant crop damage is apparent.

Idaho Bean Crop Slumps Below 1961

BOISE, Dec. 28 — Idaho dry bean production totaled 2,200,000 bushels in 1961 according to U.S. crop reporting service. Production in 1962 was slightly smaller than last year's 2,265,000 bags.

The crop was harvested on 1,200,000 acres, some 6,000 acres more than in 1961.

Yield this year was 1,840 pounds per acre above the 10-year average of 1,732 pounds and below the 1961 yield of 1,910 pounds per acre.

A decline in the production of pinto and garden seed was partly offset by increases in Great Northern and red kidney beans and flat leaf white beans. Production of Pinto beans, which account for 90 per cent of the 1962 crop, was 1,000,000 bags compared with 1,471,000 bags in 1961.

Great Northern beans ranked second in the Gem state increasing from 331,000 bags in 1961 to 403,000 bags in 1962.

One factor in increased acreage was a greater availability of water. A cool summer retarded growth.

Production of dry beans in the United States was 1,000,000 bushels per cent below last year's record high—National production was 16.5 million bags in 1962, still 11 per cent above average.

The 1962 yield of 1,840 pounds per acre was the third highest on record.

Tax Regulations To Be Released

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 — Due to be released before the beginning of the year are the treasury regulations relating to tax deduction on the co-op tax provisions in the 1962 revenue act.

The new law, passed and signed in October, clears up the long-standing uncertainty on co-op taxes and on tax deductions for expenses relating to legislative activities. Although requiring substantial adjustments in the 1961 tax law, it provides for a direct tax without deferment on savings made by farmers through three organizations.

Champion Trojans Face Unfamiliar Role in Rose Bowl as Underdog Team

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 28 (AP)—Hail the champs—now an underdog. That's the role of Southern California as it heads for a showdown with Wisconsin in the Rose bowl football classic New Year's day. Despite a record of 10 straight victories this season, the Trojans are in an unfamiliar spot. The oddsmakers figure Wisconsin is at least the margin of a win.

Ortiz Under Pressure to Defend Title

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 28 (UPI)—World lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz reportedly will be unable to defend his title Saturday night in Las Vegas. Masterman said he would vacate the title.

DANIEL J. GUDZINSKY, Michigan State athletic commissioner, said Thursday he received a telegram to that effect from Charles Carson, World Boxing Association president. Ortiz said he got the telegram Dec. 20.

Gudzinsky said he has sought for more time to clear the issue before the two fighters ever meet.

Ortiz, who was permitted drilled harder," he said.

McKay drilled the Trojans behind guard gates. Asked what was emphasized, he replied: "We tried to make the Trojan plays as didn't work."

Coach Mill Bruhn also took the Badgers behind gates earlier than the Trojans and even gave them a bout with the veteran Muskegon southpaw, now ranked

No. 1 contender.

Arizona State Wins in Tournament

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 28 (UPI)—Sixth-ranked Arizona State university got the score of its life

Thursday night, but avenged an 89-83 victory and a berth in the final of the Queen City Invitational.

Arizona, trailing by as many as 22 points early in the second half, gradually whittled

the lead down to 10 with 10 minutes to play, went ahead 68-67, but had to wait another 10 minutes for the final 10 seconds of the game to come.

The teams played on even terms for three and one-half minutes until a jump shot by Coyote's Tommie Jackson and two free throws by Dennis Daifman gave the westerners a six-point lead with three minutes left.

MARKETS AND FINANCEStocks

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 — Trading ran late but the market held today with many stocks rising from their low to close near record.

RCA managed to hold up unchanged and autos were mixed with D. B. Steel down slightly, while Robin and Hess dropped roughly 2½% in an otherwise narrow mixed chemical group.

American, which had to move to the only bid, also did well, up nearly 3%.

Drugs were irregularly lower with Smith Kline and French up more than 3% and Merck up 2%.

United, which was around 10% each, the last reflecting the optimism contained in a new TSP study announced.
